

LINCOLN, NEB -- Congressman Jeff Fortenberry released the following comment today celebrating President's Day:

"Today we honor America's presidents, who starting with George Washington have guided our young nation through times of peace and prosperity as well as peril and great adversity. We expect much from our Presidents--principled leadership, courage, and wisdom. On this Presidents Day, we take a moment to reflect upon the ideals on which America was founded and our responsibility as citizens."